I. Policy Statement and Objective

This policy defines the eligibility, coverage, requirements, and procedures for employees availing of the Wellness Reimbursement benefit.

II. Eligibility

All full-time, regular employees are eligible to avail of this benefit.

Employees must be eligible at the time qualified expenses are incurred, applied for, and processed. Qualified expenses must be incurred within the applicable calendar year, from January 1 through December 31 of the same year.

This benefit is exclusive to RealPage employees.

III. Definition of Terms

1. Leave of Absence

For purposes of this policy, the reason for the leave of absence should not be maternity- or medical-related. Examples listed in the existing policy include COVID-related circumstances, further education, relocation, inability to work in the office, or inability to work from home.

IV. Guidelines

1. Benefit Amount

Reimbursement is available up to a maximum of Php 5,000.00 per calendar year, based on the employee being in regular status at the beginning of the calendar year.

For new hires who become regular employees during the calendar year, the benefit is calculated on a pro-rated basis from the employee's regularization date:

Php 5,000 ÷ 12 months = Php 416.66 per month

Php 416.66 × remaining number of months in the reimbursable year from the date of regularization

For eligible employees who have utilized the wellness fund and separate from the company during the calendar year, the benefit is calculated on a pro-rated basis based on the separation date. Any overpayment will be recovered through final pay:

Php 5,000 ÷ 12 months = Php 416.66 per month

Php 416.66 × number of months worked during the reimbursable year

2. Eligible Expenses

The eligible expense categories and supporting-document requirements remain as defined in Version 8.0 of this policy, including:

- Enrollment, membership, registration, and entrance fees for eligible wellness and fitness activities
- Court rentals
- Prescriptive medicines
- Vitamins and multivitamins
- Specialty supplements, subject to the required prescription
- Corrective lenses and prescriptive eyeglasses/contact lenses
- Mental health consultations and checkups
- Eligible bicycle and basic bicycle parts
- Stationary bikes, treadmills, and elliptical machines
- Eligible fitness equipment
- Qualifying COVID-19 tests
- Pneumococcal, flu, and eligible HPV vaccines
- Qualifying COVID-19 vaccines
- Office chairs and office tables for work-from-home use
- Wellness retreat programs
- Chiropractic care

- Acupuncture
- Eligible dental care not covered by the HMO, limited to the procedures specified in this policy

Employees must provide the applicable supporting documentation specified for each expense category, including receipts/invoices, prescriptions or medical documentation, enrollment or registration records, test or vaccination records, and the completed wellness reimbursement form where applicable.

3. Ineligible Expenses

The following expenses are not eligible for reimbursement under the Wellness Reimbursement Program:

- Gym or workout attire
- Personal trainer fees
- Club memberships that do not fall within eligible expense categories
- Medical consultations covered by the HMO
- Physical therapy sessions
- Beauty products or procedures for cosmetic purposes
- Tournament fees
- Medical supplies or equipment
- Dentures, Invisalign, dental retainers, and dental braces
- Spa treatments and massages

4. Procedure

Employees may submit reimbursement applications at any time during the applicable period, regardless of whether the maximum reimbursable amount of Php 5,000 or the applicable pro-rated amount has been reached.

The last filing date is November 30 of the current year.

All required documentation must be submitted through the PH Support Service Request portal for validation. Reimbursement requests with incomplete requirements will not be processed. Employees will be informed when submitted documentation is incomplete or incorrect.
